

What's your reason?

Life-saving care & compassion inspires legacy gift

It was a beautiful October morning when Mark Salusbury said goodbye to his wife Susan. Minutes later, disaster struck.

Just a few miles from his Cavan home, an oncoming vehicle turned left in front of Mark and they collided. Emergency workers arrived on the scene and rushed him to PRHC. They weren't sure he would survive.

After receiving life-saving care in PRHC's ER, Mark was transported to a trauma centre for extensive surgery. Two and a half weeks later, he was sent back to PRHC to continue his treatment.

Reflecting on the staffs' dedication and the care he received at PRHC both in the ER and during his convalescence, Mark and Susan were inspired to say "thank you" by leaving a bequest to the PRHC Foundation in their Will.

Some of us give because of our personal experiences. Some of us give to ensure our loved ones are cared for. Some of us give because we know that the hospital helps every person in our community at some point in their lives. Some of us give because it's the right thing to do.

Whatever your reason, your legacy gift is about more than supporting local health care. A lot more.

Large or small, your legacy gift will have a direct impact on patient care and will live on for future generations.

A bequest in your Will allows for a gift in the future without diminishing current assets. It may allow you to realize the dream of helping others in a way not possible during your lifetime. If you have arranged to make a legacy gift to the PRHC Foundation, please let us know in confidence so we can thank you and offer recognition should you wish.

If you are considering a legacy gift, please contact Lesley Heighway, President & CEO at (705) 743-2121, ext. 3859.
